

John Hensby Bursary Application

The John Hensby Memorial Bursary was established in 2012. John also known as 'Miner John' to many of his friends was a former coal miner from Lancashire. Like many at SHARP he trained up through the BERT course before coming a member of the supervision team. John is warmly remembered for his commitment to education and his wish to make archaeology accessible to everyone, and therefore this Bursary was created to fulfil this aim.

The John Hensby Bursary subsidises two places on the excavation or one full course place annually and is aimed towards people who would not otherwise have the opportunity to excavate for financial reasons. When we have a large number of applicants we may offer more part bursaries. The deadline is the 15th of March, please send completed form to bookings@SHARP.org.uk. Applicants will be informed of the decision asap afterwards, but definitely before the end of April, the early bird discount will still apply for any applicants even after this decision is made.

Name
Postcode
Week		Offsite or Onsite
Volunteer	Course
Tell us a little about yourself
Text here
Why do you wish to apply
Text here
What impact may this have on you
Text here			